Cat Rabies On The Rise

The number of reported cases of rabies in cats nationwide has increased steadily in the last several years to the point where it now exceeds the number of cases in dogs. "It is very important to vaccinate both cats and dogs from rabies. for their own sake and to protect the people with whom they come into contact," says James Dalley, a Michigan State University staff veterinarian. A rabies vaccine for cats can produce three years of immunity and is simple to administer. said local veterinarian Paul Mesack. Rabies vaccines are available locally at the Grayling Hospital For Animals and take about 10 minutes for each cat.

52.2 Miles of Area Streams Fall Under Special Trout Rules

The Department of Natural Resources released a new order concerning special trout regulations and five of the eleven areas with restricted trout fishing are in the Grayling area.

Special regulations in the Grayling area account for 52.2 miles of river out of the total of 100 miles restricted by special trout regulations in the state.

The special regulation sections in our area are these:

Mainstream AuSable from Burton's to Wakeley Bridge (8.7 miles) - 1) artificial flies only 2) catch-and-release fishing only, trout may not be possessed in no-kill area regardless of where the fish were caught 3) no closed season

South Branch from Chase Bridge to Lower High Banks (4 miles) - 1) artificial flies only 2) catch-and-release fishing only, trout may not be possessed in no-kill area regardless of where the fish were caught 3) extended trout season April 26, 1986, to Oct. 31, 1986

North Branch from Sheep Ranch access site to mouth (21 miles) - 1) artificial flies only 2) minimum trout size, brook trout - 8 inches, all other trout - 10 inches 3) daily catch or possession limit - 5 trout 4) extended trout season April 26, 1986, to Oct. 31, 1986 South Branch from Lower High Banks to mouth (11 miles) - 1) artificial flies only 2) minimum trout size, brook trout - 8 inches, all other trout - 10 inches 3) daily catch or possession limit 5 trout 4) extended trout season April 26, 1986 to Oct. 31, 1986

Manistee River from Yellowtrees Landing to CCC Bridge (7.5 miles) - 1) artificial flies only 2) minimum trout size, brook trout - 8 inches, all other trout - 10 inches 3) daily catch or possession limit - 5 trout 4) extended season April 26, 1986, to Oct. 31,

Other special regulations included 14.2 miles on the AuSable near Mio, 14.6 miles on Escanaba River, 7 miles on Little Manistee River, 7 miles on Pere Marquette, 3 miles on Clam River, and 2 miles on Huron River.

One of the changes in the South Branch catch-and-release area for this year is that fishermen can not possess fish in the area regardless of where the fish were caught. Previously, a fisherman in a boat or canoe could say he caught the fish before he entered the no-kill area.

The new regulations go into effect immediately and remain valid until April 24, 1987.

*12.3 Million Camp Grayling Project OK'd

By Jon Thompson

Congress approved $12.3 million to build a Multi-Purpose Range Complex (MPRC) on Camp Grayling's Range 30, announced Camp Grayling Commander Colonel Schmidt last Thursday at a news conference held in the Grayling Chamber of Commerce building.

The MPRC represents a high-tech, computerized, state-of-the-art range designed for M-1 Abrams tanks and M-2 and M-3 armored personnel carriers, said Colonel Schmidt.

"Camp Grayling will have one of only a few MPRC's in the United States," said Schmidt, "so we're proud to have this privilege and hope it will be a great boon to the Grayling area. It certainly will be for Camp Grayling."

The funding approval for the project is for fiscal year 1988 and Schmidt said current planning indicates construction for the range could begin as early as October, 1987.

He pointed out the economic benefits to the area would be more year-round and seasonal civilian and military employees at Camp Grayling, and more money in the area through construction contracts and payroll.

"Grayling was picked because it is one of the few places in the United States that has space available, has the proper terrain for tank gunnery, and also has the feature of being very close to the northern Europe environment," said Schmidt.

He said Camp Grayling is being looked at by the Army and National Guard Bureau as a cold weather training site and this new range complex will enhance the Army and National Guard's ability to train in cold weather or summer.

The $12.3 million includes money for buildings to store ammunition, computers, training equipment, and messhalls and briefing rooms.

Schmidt said the MPRC is expected to have minimum environmental impact.

"It's located well inside of Range 30 and should have less noise impact than currently is being experienced in the neighborhood," he said.

Schmidt said the MPRC is designed for the state-of-the-art U.S. military vehicles.

"The M-1, M-2, and M-3 vehicles are the most combat effective vehicles in the world today," he said. "They are faster, shoot the best, and have the most state-of-the-art equipment on board to perform their

Because of the sophistication of the equipment at the new range, he said security will be increased at both Range 30 and Camp

The construction of the new range complex will probably be handled by a state contract put out to bidders in Michigan and the Midwest, Schmidt said.

He also said the new MPRC will probably cause more states to use Camp Grayling for training.

Schmidt said it was too early to estimate how many more troops might train here. He also had no estimate on how many new jobs at Camp Grayling might be created by the MPRC.

The MPRC project follows a $6 million M.A.T.E.S. project at Range 30 set to start construction this spring.

State Award Ceremony For GHS Slated For April 22 in Lansing

The state Board of Education will honor Grayling High School and six other outstanding high schools in a ceremony Tuesday, April 22, at the State Law Building.

Members of the Michigan Legislature from each of the school districts will also be on hand to honor the exemplary schools.

Grayling High School was one of only two Class C high schools selected in the 1985-86 Secondary School Recognition Program. In addition to GHS, Deerfield High School, Mona Shores High School in Muskegon, Wylie E. Groves High Scho9ol in Birmingham, Novi High School, West Bloomfield High School, and Cass City High School will be honored.

The national secondary school recognition program is not being held this year or GHS would be eligible to compete for national honors. The national secondary school recognition program will be held on alternate years with the national elementary school recognition program.

In addition to the seven state high schools. there will be ten middle school or junior high schools honored April 22. They are Elk Rapids Middle School, Berrien Springs Middle School, Lakeview Junior High School, Grand Blanc Middle School, Maltby Middle School in Brighton, Iroquois Middle School in Chippewa Valley, Clarkston Junior High School, Boulan Park Middle School in Troy, Jenison Junior High School in Jenison, and Charles R. Drew Middle School in Detroit.

Next year, the Crawford AuSable School District will probably seek state recognition for one or both of its elementary schools, said Kent Reynolds, Crawford AuSable Superintendent.

The following year, when the new middle school is in use, the district will probably seek state recognition for the middle school.

From Our Corner...

One more diety out of Lansing has been heard from, and by his statements us folks that live here don't know what is good for us...let us down-staters tell you how to live...or what you want...we are used to that fast living, that is why we want to preserve your environment so we can come up and enjoy life...

Recently, Ronald Skoog, director of the state Department of Natural Resources surfaced and, would you believe, he went along with the downstaters, and our esteemed body that makes up the Natural Resources Commission...but then, I don't know who hires or fires who...

After reading down a couple of lines, I realized why he made the statement...he was addressing the powerful organization, Trout Unlimited, of its Head-*waters Chapter...

According to the article, the resolution made by Sen. Connie Binsfeld in essence holds about as much water as a leaky tub...Skoog mentioned, "those kind of resolutions are just like the kind you get at club meetings".

If that is the case, why in hell do we have Senators and Representatives in Lansing...let the DNR, NRC, rule our environment...and lives...

Another brilliant statement Skoog made, according to the article was, "There was no great demand made one way or the other that we heard from fishermen." ... "The differential wasn't significant, 60 percent to 40 is not significant. If it had been 90 to 10 you'd have had a clear message".

Mr. Skoog should tell that to the MSU Spartans and the U of M Wolverines...they really didn't lose because the differential in the scores were not enough to defeat either one of them...

One other remark sort of made me chuckle...Mr. Skoog said, "the NRC is made up of people who are very sympathetic of trout fishermen and said they made the decision to protect the resources".

That one is a dilly...I'm so happy that a group comprised of people all over the state now wishes to protect our resources...funny, it's well over 100 years that the natives of Crawford County have protected their own environment...now, all of a sudden we need guidance so the area will continue to survive so the down-state folks will look at it and say, this is for me...

I would almost be willing to bet that most of the commission hardly knows where Grayling is, let alone know the AuSable runs through town...

One more dilly..."I think any regulating body does what it thinks is best for the resource and the fishing public," the chief said... Amen, the diety has spoken...

This is something we don't normally do...but, with an exception we will promote a book of poems...

George Watson, one of us local folk has just had a book of poems printed here in Grayling...we've read a few and they are relaxing to read and made me think about the poems that Edgar Guest turned out for many years...

The book entitled "Candy For The Mind", is just that...it is refreshing and sweet...copies may be gotten by sending $10.00 (plus $1.00) for postage to...George Watson, P.O. Box 359, Grayling, Mi. 49738...a sampling of his work appears on page 13...

Lately we have been receiving poems...we must reiterate that the policy of the Avalanche for decades has been they have to be paid for ... reason, everyone, at times feels that they are a poet...if we printed every one, there would be no room for news...

An idle thought...somewhere we read that one persons junk, is another persons treasure...if that is the case, our bride has to be a millionaire...

Sweet dreams T.J., Stefany and Amber...and to Lall have a nice weekend...trout season is but a month away...on the Holy Waters...

THE RESURRECTION MIRACLE

Can one miracle prove Christianity? Does your eternal future depend upon your response to one historical fact? The religious leaders of Christ's day asked Him for a sign or miracle to prove He was the Messiah. (Matt. 12:38). "But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas: For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth." (Matt. 12:39, 40).

When the apostle Paul confronted the learned Greek philosophers of Athens, "he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection." (Acts 17:18). Apart from the resurrection, our preaching is vain or empty. (I Cor. 15:14). If there was no resurrection of Jesus Christ, all Bible-believing preachers are liars. (I Cor. 15:15). If there be no resurrection of Jesus Christ, all our Christian loved ones are perished for eternity. (I Cor. 15:18). If there was no resurrection of Jesus Christ, our Christian faith is empty, and we shall die in our sins. (I Cor 15:17). Christians are the most miserable of men, if there be no resurrection. (I Cor. 15:19).

One of the more serious problems facing our society today is what shall we do with our solid waste. Historically, garbage has been dumped behind the house, in the ravine down the road or at local dumps. Recognition of the environmental problems of this "toss it and forget it" method of solid waste management has led to todays improved but still imperfect "landfills". To take a look at the enormity of the challenge facing us, let us consider just one component of our solid waste problem - tires. Tires are indispensable to our mobile society. Cars, trucks, tractors, bikes and other vehicles roll on tons and tons of rubber. As these tires wear out (at the rate of one per season per year, for a total of 9,000,000 annually in Michigan) they have to be disposed of. Most of us forget about our tires when we have new ones installed - perhaps thinking that the garage owner will sell them as scrap. This is not the case. A few can be retreaded, but the vast majority end up in large piles that become fire hazards and/or prime mosquito breeding sites. Two cases emphasize this point. First is the incident of a pile of tires burning for 9 months in Virginia and costing over a million dollars to extinguish. Secondly, is an Ohio study which showed that 80 percent of children afflicted pile. Our best hope to resolve this problem is to develop an economically feasible method to recycle tires into other commodities or an energy source. In the meantime, millions of tons of other solid waste, from plastic to glass to metal to whatever you can think of, continue to pile up also.

Then There Were Five

by Richard Milliman

AT THE RISK of sounding something like an Agatha Christie murder mystery, this column is entitled "And then there were five."

Five, that is, Republican candidates for governor — and the filing deadline is not Here yet.

The first and the fifth candidates (by orger of public disclosure anyway, without gegard for formalized announcements) geem to add the most spice to the Republigan dish.

FIRST, YOU MAY RECALL, was Bill Lucas, elected Wayne County administra-For. Lucas dressed up his entry into the gubernatorial lists by switching parties. e was welcomed to the Republican ranks with open arms by such bigwigs as President Reagan and Vice President Bush. Lucas immediately became the front-Junner — and still is, for that matter.

🧗 Next came solid, steady, qualified — but somewhat dull - Dan Murphy, elected Dakland County administrator. Michigan Could do far worse in selecting someone to Be governor, but Murphy's excitement quotient is not extreme.

Then there is Dick Chrysler, independent business-man who made his millions the old-fashioned way — he started poor and worked hard and earned them. He's not afraid to spend them either, to chase his dream of being elected to a major public office.

ENTERING ALMOST through the side door is Candidate No. 4 — tax-hating recall champion John Lauve, whose chief claim to fame is the anti-tax movement in the Detroit area. Lauve tried to ride the same motoriety to a seat in Congress two years lago, and failed, so now is trying for the governor's chair instead.

And most recently, Candidate No. 5, Colleen Engler. Rep. Engler is the only outstate candidate in the litter so far, the only woman, the only one with direct legislative experience — and the only one married to the Senate majority leader.

Rep. Engler's entry is a rather recent decision. Up to now, she has been concentrating her efforts on behalf of the Bush presidential push, which indicates she is well connected politically in areas other than the House and Senate in Lansing.

HOW WILL HER candidacy play across the state? It's anybody's guess at this point. Apparently, based upon her opening announcements and her voting record in the legislature, she is not particularly doctrinaire in her approach to public prob-

She's pro-life, and pro-Equal Rights Amendment, and anti-capital punishment, and pro-divestiture of state funds in South Africa, and for "responsible taxation policy." Some of these positions are crosswise from ultra-conservatism, but she is generally mainstream Republican.

Mrs. Engler's entry adds spice to the Republican political pot. So does the campaign start by Mr. Chrysler, who has opened his personal purse strings to finance his early media blitz, including a reported $326,000 for television spots, followed by another $120,000 for radio, leading up to an estimated $1.5 million early campaign media bill.

WITH MRS. ENGLER out in the open, and with Mr. Chrysler now known more widely, and with Mr. Murphy's non-spectacular but intensive campaigning, Mr. Lucas' edge as front-runner is getting thinner by the day. Mr. Lucas lost one prominent supporter when Sen. John Engler said he will support his wife's candidacy and drop his front-man role as an original Lucas booster. It's understandable, and underlines the recency of Mrs. Engler's decision to run.

One reason for the army of candidates, of course, is that there is no Republican incumbent and the party leadership slot is truly up for grabs - although tackling incumbent Governor Blanchard is not going to be a picnic.

The other main reason is public funding of gubernatorial candidates. For example, Mrs. Engler only has to raise $333,000 for the primary, and the taxpayers will add another $666,000 in public funding. The same is true for the others, too.

Our tax dollars buy us a chance to see many, many candidates for governor. But is it good public policy? That's a question that should be considered carefully.

Lansing - Michigan Lottery Commissioner Michael J. Carr announced here today that statewide sales for the new six of 44 Super Lotto game will start on Monday, April 14.

"Sales for the first game will end at 7:08 p.m. on Saturday, April 19, with the drawing televised on our regular network of stations at 7:29," he said. "We'll start with a Jackpot of at least $2 million, but this could go higher depending on the level of player interest."

Based on experience in other states with similar games, Carr said Jackpot shares in Super Lotto should average above $3 million. This compares to an average in the present six of 40 Michigan Lotto game of about $1.7 million through the first 18 months of the game.

The six of 40 Lotto game, started in August 1984 and moved to twice-weekly drawings on its first anniversary, will revert to a weekly game with start of Super Lotto. After its final Saturday drawing on April 12, Michigan Lotto will become a Wednesday to Wednesday game. Separate prize pools will be maintained for each game. For example, if no one matches all six winning numbers in the regular Wednesday Lotto game, the jackpot amount will be added to the following Wednesday's game. In Super Lotto, if there is no one matching all six numbers drawn on Saturday night, that jackpot amount "rolls over" to the following Saturday. Carr said the odds of matching all six numbers drawing from the field of 44 to win or share the Super Lotto Jackpot are just over one in seven million. In the six of 40 Michigan Lotto game, these odds are one in some 3.8 million.

"The odds of matching five or four numbers also will increase in Super Lotto, along with average shares of second and third prizes," Carr stated.

"In the second prize pool, we expect average winning shares of $2,500 compared to regular Lotto's $1,600. Third prize shares should average about $90 compared to $50."

Noting favorable public reaction to the announcement of Super Lotto, Carr said players and retailers should have little difficulty adapting to the variations from the six of 40 game.

"We'll be using the same drawing equipment with Super Lotto featuring new sets of balls numbered one through 44," he said. "Tickets will be issued by the same retailer terminals already installed. Similar bet slips will be used for both games, with those for Super Lotto showing the larger field of numbers with a different color code. Tickets for both games will be on sale every day of the week."

Carr said a subscription play would not be offered for Super Lotto, but a system to allow advance ticket purchases at any Lotto retailer is being studied for possible future use.

Carr pointed out there will be approximately 2,500 retailers with Lotto sales ter-

The 18.6 million passenger total is 32 percent higher than the old mark of 14 million set in 1984.

"This new air travel record clearly reflects Michigan's economic comeback and improved economic conditions nationally," Governor James J. Blanchard said in announcing the numbers.

"Vinegar will bring immediate relief and quick cure for poison oak or ivy.

"For diaper rash of infants or rash from soap or detergents, add about 2 cups of white (distilled) vinegar to the last rinse water when washing diapers or underclothes." (Vinegar is often used to rinse hair after shampooing, but I found it also rinses the hair of its oils as well.)

One last little fascination: "From an old recipe book: Bones and ivory may be turned to almost any use, by being softened in the following manner: Boil some sage in strong vinegar, strain the liquor through a piece of cloth, and put in the articles. "Showcase" to Premiere Sunday, April 13

Jeff Martinez & Kathy Allen

The Crawford County Arts Council is proud to present Showcase, a performance consisting of very talented local residents. Showcase will make its premiere on Sunday, April 13, at 4:00 p.m., in the main dining room of Chief Shoppenagons Hotel. Tickets, at $2.00, are available at the Hotel lobby desk and from some CCAC members.

Three of the Showcase performers are Grayling High School students: Stephanie Himdmarsh, Kathy Allen, and Jeff Martinez.

Senior Stephanie, who was selected Miss Grayling this February, will perform "Hard-Hearted Hannah." her prizewinning performance from the talent portion of the Miss Grayling Stephanie plans to make musical theatre her career, and her talent in singing, dancing, and acting make her the "triple threat" that performers must be to succeed on stage.

She sings alto with the Holiday Inn Revue, and recently appeared with that group as

Leona in "Rainbow Jones." Stephanie has been dancing for nine years, taking lessons locally and from a number of professional instructors throughout the state and Midwest. She danced with a Crooked Tree Arts Council troupe in Petoskey, studied jazz twice with Kathy Allen and Jeff Martinez, two veteran members of the GHS forensics team, will perform their prizewinning duo interpretation from "The Rainmaker" for Showcase.

Senior Kathy Allen has participated on the individual speech events team for three years and has acted in theatrical performances for four.

As a sophomore, she qualified for Regional competition in Serious Interpretation; and this season, with partner Jeff, she has consistently won trophies in Duo Interpretation at all five invitational tournaments.

Kathy has acted in 10 GHS productions, including the lead in "On Golden Pond" as a freshman and the lead this winter in "The Haunting of Hill House."

Senior Jeff Martinez has been in forensics and high school theatrical productions for four years, and is perhaps best known for his role as the crazy King Pellinore in last spring's "Camelot." Local audiences also saw Jeff playing the part of Leslie in last summer's "Love, Sex, and the I.R.S."

He has sung with the Holiday Inn Revue since its inception, and played C.A. Fox in the recent production of "Rainbow Jones."

Both Kathy and Jeff plan to attend the University of Michigan in the fall.

Seating for Showcase is limited. Be certain to purchase your tickets early, so as not to miss this opportunity to see these wonderfully talented young people of Crawford County who will so generously share their gifts with you on April 13.

The profits from Showcase will go toward artistic programs in the Grayling area, as well as scholarships and financial aid for persons wishing to pursue study in the arts.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

by Wendell L. Hoover Park Interpreter

It has, in some ways, been a long winter and the signs of spring are still not very numerous. The crows returned to the park on March 4 and the Chickadees are singing their spring song, but the snow at the time of this writing does not seem to be melting any faster than it was in December.

One indication of the approach of the camping season is the number of requests for reservations we are receiving. If you are considering reserving a campsite in any State Park I suggest you do so early. Early reservation allows for processing the forms and a better chance of being able to reserve a site. Another sign of spring is the number of requests for guided walks from the schools within bus range of the park. The calendar for May and June is becoming increasingly crowded and will become more so by mid-April.

I suspect one of the better indications of spring is all those crossed out lines on the project list put up last fall. Besides the normal activities of plowing snow, hauling trash from here, North Higgins and Otsego Lake State Parks, registering campers, and selling vehicle permits we have constructed new benches for the Logging Camp amphitheater, and for the foot trails, rebuilt the drag saw which we want to use during Old Time Days in June, rebuilt the sprinkler sled, made major repairs to the snow roller and painted the shop just to mention the more major projects completed. There are numerous other projects to do once the snow melts such as setting all those benches, brush and limbs must be collected and put through the chipper, the buildings prepared for use, the grounds cleaned of winter debris and the water turned on and...

Ham and Eggs

by Gail Edwards Extension Home Economist

Ouestion: What's as common to Easter as the Easter bunny?

Answer: Ham and Eggs! If you're planning a traditional Easter holiday, chances are it will involve ham for dinner and colorfully decorated Easter eggs in baskets. Some rules of thumb will help keep these traditional holiday foods safe.

Two types of hams are available: fully cooked and those that require cooking before eating. Hams that are labeled "cured" or "cured and smoked" will require cooking. Cook this type to a minimum internal temperature of 160 degrees F to ensure a safe product.

"Fully cooked" hams require no further cooking. If you prefer ham warm, wrap it in foil to seal in juices and heat in a moderate oven (350 degrees F). If you happen to have a ham that does not specify whether it's been cooked, assume it has not and bake before eating.

People often wonder whether the Easter eggs that sat at room temperature over the holiday are safe to consume. According to the American Egg Beard, the answer is yes if thefollowing conditions hold true: the eggs were not left at room temperature longer than 12 hours and the eigshells show no cracks. Hard cooked eggs, stored in the refrigerator (shells intict) will stay fresh for a weekor longer.

In Profile Florence Schalk

Volunteers

Volunteers in Profile is an innovation in public relations by the executive officer in charge of the RSVP in the counties of Crawford and Roscommon. To single out Volunteers who have made a significant personal contribution advancing the community service program which currently consists of over 200 volunteers.

This issue introduces Florence Schalk. She is a delightfully charming lady who has eased many hypertension individuals into the Blood Pressure station located in the Roscommon Senior Center. Her effervescent personality has made many a newcomer to the program a smooth transition. Her warm smile and ever pleasant greeting makes one at case immediately.

A 7-year stint in her clerical capacity in the RSVP program has turned into a well-functioning service to the community.

For Flo Schalk it all began casually enough when she helped out in the Blood Pressure program began in her home church, First Congregational, in Roscommon.

Schalk also pinch-hit temporarily on the "Dial-a-Vial" program in Grayling, upgrading the program in the process.

The lady of 70 summers ensconced in the long, dark corridor of the Roscommon Community Center, ever illuminates the corner where she presides with her warm beaming smile brightening the corner for the many people she greets every second and fourth Wednesday's of each month.

Truly, God's blessing to Crawford and Roscommon

RSVP Reports

by Aleta Thompson Director

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program is a Challenging and rewarding experience. From exploring new interests to making new friends, the opportunities are there. Caring and committed describe those who volunteer. From giving of their time and energy, to taking pride in a job well done, their dedication defies the notion that age limits productivity. When matched to needs of the communities, the dedicated service RSVP volunteers provide, benefits every segment of the population. RSVP is truly a story of giving.

Our volunteers serve an average of four hours per month, but many contribute more. Each receives a brief orientation prior to assignment, and is provided ongoing supervision, inservice instruction, and recognition.

The only criteria for participation in RSVP is that a person be 60 years of age or older. Volunteers work without pay, although they are eligible to receive reimbursement for meals and transportation. They are also covered by liability and accident insurance.

If you are interested in volunteering in the RSVP program, please contact our offices at 348-4341 and 348-8322 in Grayling, and 366-5613 in Roscommon County.

ABWA Holds Spring Tea

The Grayling Chapter of the American Business Women's Association held their Spring Tea at the Arrowhead Inn on March 18. Members and their guests enjoyed a program geared to "Believe in the theme ABWA". The program consisted of a film and informative presentations by chapter members on the various aspects of ABWA. The organization's goal is the provision of scholarships to Grayling area women. Zann Lindsay provided the evening's entertainment. The regular business meeting following the tea gave prospective members an insight into ABWA activities. March birthdays were celebrated by members Diane Christman, Darlene Fenn and Betty Mansfield, and guest Gloria King. The monthly 50/50 drawing was won by Treva McClanahan. Selection of the chapter's Woman of the Year will be announced in April. The monthly meeting is scheduled for April 15. Millionaires Night/Boss Night is to be held Saturday, April 19 at the Train Depot in conjunction with the Grayling Chamber of Commerce. Membership in ABWA is open to working women. Those who missed this enrollment opportunity can obtain information by calling Carol Ralph at 348-9415.

Fortunetellers Can't

Astrologers who claim they can analyze a person's character and predict that person's life course just by reading the "stars" are fooling the public and themselves, a University of California, Berkeley researcher said.

In a carefully controlled study, designed specifically to test what astrologers say they can do, the scientist found astrologers had no special ability to interpret personality purely from astrological readings.

DEPENDENCY

My article last week referred to a study particularly pertaining to men. The five different types of personality types noted in the survey can also be seen in women. The place of the aging woman in society has some distinctive elements as well as those shared with men.

For example, we can distinguish between the grown woman who continues to rely upon "girlish" charms, and the woman who develops new deeper personality attributes that make her, in old age, a more impressive and powerful person than ever before.

The fact that more young women are more are more active participants in the complete range of social activity and power-sharing strongly suggest that in old age their place will differ from that of their more "protected" mothers who, throughout their lives, had been expected to limit themselves to a narrower realm. A grim choice confronts some people when they face problems associated with advancing age. Do they have to accept insecurity and deprivation? Must they surrender much of their independence and integrity in order to be helpful? Elderly men and women may prefer to go it alone instead of taking advantages of resources to which they are entitled. To the world they may appear as stubborn and unrealistic. But they feel that life would no longer be worthwhile if they were to become dependent on others for their needs.

Young adults may already fear the dependency associated with old age. It is not unusual for them to declare that they would rather die than grow old. Thus, a dread of old age already influences the thoughts, feelings and actions of people who are still years away from it.

Since this fear of dependency weighs heavily upon so many people, both old and not-so-old, it is important to examine the psychological and bio-social realities. Why does dependency appear such a grim prospect? We all began life as helpless infants dependent on others for our survival and wellbeing. It takes us years to reach the point where we can take major responsibility for our own lives. Many of the steps along the way are difficult, and few of us make our way without struggle and conflict. We have to prove our indendence, to ourselves and others, and we have to overcome temptations to slide back to earlier stages of dependency. We recognize the advantages of independence and the obstacles we have overcome to gain it. On the other hand, there are times when it seems so pleasant to drift into a more passive condition, seemingly to relinguish what we have achieved. Let somebody else take care of us, make the tough decisions, protect, nuture...hard on the person of Services to Aging. We who has strong dependency cravings beneath a facade of independence.

In some ways, certain dependencies are naturally associated with old age. An old person is not a baby by any means, but it is normal for the old to need help and protection as their physical resources diminish. There is nothing inherently wrong or shameful about this situa-

HOW ABOUT HAWAII - Mr. Hayes' class would like to thank Mrs. McEvers for teaching them much about Hawaii.

In this picture you see Mrs. McEvers, Chad Morrow and John Huber. Mrs. McEvers is holding a young girl's grass skirt, and she is wearing a muumuu. Chad is holding a Hawaiian book.

Mrs. McEvers showed them some slides on Hawaii. We saw a chunk of lava similar to that found in Hawaii. We also saw some necklaces.

"Mercy Matters"

By Sister Mary Ellen Howard, RSM President and Chief Executive Officer Mercy Hospital, Grayling

Ministers in Crawford County and the surrounding areas have joined together to form the AuSable Ministerial Association, a group that is now actively involved with many of the patients at Mercy Hospital. In an effort to serve the community, the associaion was formed to help those in need both financially and spiritually. And the hospital is really a place where they all come together...sometimes on a daily basis...when visiting patients or counseling families of patients.

The Pastoral Care Department at Mercy, under the direction of Sister Mary Generose Kubesh, RSM, is a specialized program you'll find in Catholic hospitals nationwide. Patients and their families are the department's top priorities, along with serving the needs of employees at Mercy. Within 24 hours of admission, every patient at Mercy is visited by Sister Generose or her associate, Sister Mary Patrice Sinnott, RSM. At that time the patient's need will be assessed and then follow-up visits are scheduled. Ministers in the Mercy service area are always welcome here, and often times they alert the Pastoral Care Department when a member of their congregation is being admitted to the hospital. Meeting the spiritual needs of every patient on a daily basis, along with helping families cope with serious illness or death are two primary goals of the Pastoral Care Department.

Communion is offered daily to Catholic patients throughout the hospital and also at Mercy Manor, the extended care facility adjacent to Mercy. On Sunday mornings a communion service is held at Mercy Manor. During the week, St. Mary's Church holds the parish Mass at Mercy at 8 a.m. Also planned during the months of April and May is another series of Pastoral Care Education Sessions to be held at the hos-

Construction of a new family chapel on the first floor lobby is underway with a completion date of May 1. The new chapel is just one of three chapels located at Mercy, providing a peaceful place where the visiting public can pray.

During this Easter Week I'd like to personally thank all the ministers of our area for their active participation in the AuSable Ministerial Association and the helping hand they so generously offer to our patients. And I wish for all of you and your families a most blessed Easter.

Mr. Whitey Madsen Crawford County Avalanche

Whitey, Living in and loving Northern Michigan especially the Grayling area definitely creates elitism. After reading last weeks Editor's Mailbox I can honestly say that I am proud to be a part of this Community, as I am equally certain all the "Local Elites" must be. After all if not for US just what would there be for those "Others" to seek and enjoy.

Mr. Butts certainly has a knack for vociferation, however, I would like to extend to him our gratitude for expressing at least ONE veritable fact. We have been trying for months to convince TRANSIENTS that we too DO release fish, as is now apparent, we have finally been heard. Thank you Ben for helping OUR efforts.

Talbot Pines Rte. 4 Box 4428 Grayling, Mi. 49738 Mr. Butts,

When you called a couple of weeks ago - and incidently did most of the talking - you asked me why I had voted the way I did at our Board Meeting.

My answer was, because the DNR Biologist's recommended against "No-Kill", at, which time you said you would furnish me with the report. As of this date I have not received it from you.

My accurate statement regarding the DNR Commission was, Gov. Blanchard makes the appointments and the appointees don't necessarily have to have any credentials or ex-

I'll take your best shot. In fact, if you can show me where I STATED that "Kammer doesn't know about trout - he's a Bass fisherman" in my column, you can put a hook in my mouth and drag me around the river with your fly rod. Of course, I'd want to be in the No-Kill

Appreciate

The patients and staff at Mercy Hospital and Mercy Manor would like to thank the American Cancer Society and the many Grayling business sponsors who so graciously provided us with daffodils last week. The lovely yellow bouquets were given to each patient at the hospital, and brought much joy to an otherwise gloomy March day. So many smiles were generated at the hospital with each daffodil bouquet, we thought it appropriate to thank everyone publically for their generosity.

Most Sincerely, Mary Jo Conway Director of Public Relations Mercy Hospital, Grayling

Easter

It is now three days after that terrible Dark Friday when God said unto them, "Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day; and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached among all nations." The weighty stones are being rolled away from the grave doors and the Spirit is becoming triumphant over death. The Old Rugged Cross and Christ's tomb are both being snatched, forever, from their association with death.

Now,-just then, Heavenly love turned the gloomiest Dark Friday in the annals of human history into a very Good Friday. All that Christmas ever meant to the world is now wholly sanctified in Easter. Christ's promise that. He would build the Temple again in three days, has been ful-

Easter is the springtime of the soul and Crucifixion has more radiant beauty and deep meaning when we see it through the fragrant glory of the snow white lily. Easter symbolizes the Crucifixion, Burial and Resurrection of our True Leader. The event is packed with all the drama of human emotion we can withstand.

Hallelujah, it is Easter.

The Avalanche and Staff

Where are they going? They don't know. Where will they have lunch? Somewhere. What will they see this afternoon? It really doesn't matter, but they're having fun. One of the sure signs that winter has come to an end is the return of the "Mystery Trip" to the Northern Michigan landscape. This season, Le Coache Tours has a full schedule of fascinating trips to unknown places. The first fun-filled "Mystery Trip" of the season from the Grayling area will be Thursday, April 17. The tour will depart from the Grayling Holiday Inn at 8:00 a.m. and whisk the participants away for a day filled with excitement and adventure.

As each "Mystery Trip" begins, each participant is served fresh brewed coffee and everyone is introduced to the other members of the tour, unless of course there happens to be a special "Mystery Rider". After a brief ride, some sort of attraction is visited, the cost of the attraction being included in the tour price. At lunch, still another mystery is uneviled, "What is for lunch and where will it be?" The price of lunch is also included in the $24.00 charge for this full day of mystery and intrigue. After lunch, still one more attraction is visited before the group returns home.

"Mystery Trips" are especially popular to senior citizens but participants of all ages are welcome. If you have never experienced the anticipation of not knowing where you are going, don't be deprived any longer. Join a "Mystery Trip" and get out and shake off the winter blahs! For more "Mystery Trip" information, call 1-800-292-9055.
